

HEALTH SCIENCE LOOP

1 UCI Science Library

UCI's Science Library which opened in 1994, was designed by famous architects James Stirling and Michael Willford in the postmodernist style. UCI's Science Library, one of the largest consolidated science, technology, and medicine libraries in the nation, contains the collections and services that support research and teaching.

2 Science Library Gardens

Behind the science library you will find the "Sculptures in Marble" donated in 2005 by the artist Nancy Doran. There are a total of 12 sculptors lining the walkway. The sculptures portray the struggles of the human spirit.

3 UCI Medical School

The California College of Medicine became the UCI College of Medicine in 1967. It has since been renamed as the UCI School of Medicine and houses 26 departments and employs over 550 faculty members.

4 Gillespie Neuroscience Research Facility

Scenes from the 2001 hit movie Ocean's Eleven where Danny Ocean and his team steal a "pinch" to create an electromagnetic pulse was filmed at the Gillespie Neuroscience Research Facility. The scenes were filmed at night and when the university was closed over the weekend.

5 Gross Hall

Gross Hall earned a coveted LEED Platinum rating from the U.S. Green Building Corporation for its state of the art green features and design.

6 Campus Village

Constructed in 1980, Campus Village offers year round living for undergraduates/graduate students with all the advantages of on-campus housing. CV composes of 25 buildings with ~ 800 residents.